Gibliano Brothers Vs. Hunger

Gibliano Brothers Dueling Pianos & Music House, a 6-month old live entertainment venue, is leading the charge against hunger with a food drive October 29- 31, at 718 W Riverside Avenue.

Food drive bins will be available for non-perishable food donations from 4pm- 2am, and all patrons of the bar who bring 2 food items will get free cover into the bar. Gibliano Brothers' dueling pianists will also be contributing by accepting food donations as tips to play songs. No money needed this weekend to hear your favorites, just bring food!

Get Your Fried Pickles Posthaste!

The Post Street Ale House, North 1 Post Street, opened October 9 and has been a new hotspot since! The public house made their debut with a variety of food, including the much talked about fried pickles, 20 beers on tap, entrees under $10, six 55-inch LED television sets, several private dining rooms and complimentary WiFi throughout.

"We're offering comfortable food at comfortable prices," says owner and proprietor, Walt Worthy, who together with his wife Karen, purchased the Hotel Lusso building in May. "We hope to be the place where people go Downtown for a good business lunch, a beer with friends after work or a place to catch a game on TV. You can't beat the location Downtown or the prices."

Bring the Kids Down for Broomstick Bash

Bring your kiddos to the 1st Annual Broomstick Bash sponsored by River Park Square, celebrating 10 years, on Saturday, October 31, from 5:30-7pm followed by trick-or-treating in River Park Square from 7-9pm.

Put on your Halloween costume and head to Mobius Kids for spooky games, not-so-scary crafts and a wickedly fun costume contest! This is a Spooktacular event for families with children ten & under.

Purchase tickets now for $3 per person at the Mobius Kids Admissions Desk or by calling 509-624-KIDS ext.0.

Boo Radley's New, Yet Familiar Neighbor

Formerly known as Four Season's at 222 N. Howard, the owners of Boo Radley's have purchased the coffee and gift shop, appropriately re-naming the neighboring shop Atticus Coffee.

Atticus has a similar feel to Four Season's, but with some edgier additions to the gift shop. Stop by for a coffee, or to pick up a unique card or gift and check out some of the new merchandise!

Madison Makeover

The Madison, one of Downtown's flagship historic buildings, underwent a complete renovation. It now provides full amenity apartment living and street-level retail. The residential units range from studios to two bedrooms, and high-end apartments to affordable housing. Units are still available in all categories, although they are renting quickly, with nearly 60% of its residential units already leased, particularly those on the top floor.

The interest in the building has been "phenomenal," said Michael Dennis, property manager for Monroe Madison Management, which operates the building. "I've been involved with the property for many years, and it's gratifying to see it come back to life," stated Dennis.

All of the Madison's available listings, which range from $305 - $1250 per month, can be found at MonroeMadison.com. For additional information, please phone the Madison at (509) 448-9945.

Celebrate Local Food

The Main Market Co-op is coming soon, and to celebrate Lynette Baskins from Clinkerdagger, Tom Sciortino from Wild Sage, Sharon Smith & Don Barbieri invite you to a Condo Party on Sunday, November 1, 5:30-7:30pm!

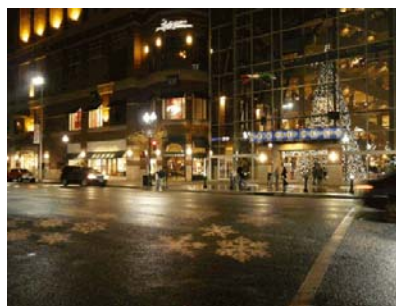

Come learn all about the store, membership opportunities and the benefits of the market beyond buying and selling food. RSVP to don.sharon@comcast.net or 509.999.9926 and join in the celebration at the home of Sharon Smith & Don Barbieri at the Upper Falls Condominiums, with food provided by Wild Sage and Clinkerdagger, and beverages courtesy of Coeur d'Alene Brewery, Lone Canary and Caterina Winery!
